O Word    of    God in-        carnate, O Wis-    dom    from on high,
The church from her dear        Master received the    gift di- vine,
It float-    eth    like a            banner before    God's host un-furled;
O make    thy    church, dear Savior, a lamp    of        purest gold.

                 Bm   A            Em   F#            Bm   D        G    A        D
O Truth    un -changed, un    -changing, O    Light of    our dark sky;
And still    that light        she    lifteth        o'er all    the    earth to shine.
It shin-    eth    like            a    beacon    a-    bove the    darkling world.
To bear    be-    fore            the    nations    thy    true light, as of    old.

We praise thee for the    radiance that    from the hal-    lowed page,
It is        the    golden    casket, where gems of truth    are    stored;
It is        the    chart and compass that    o'er life's surg-ing    sea,
O teach    thy    wand'ring pilgrims    by        this their path    to    trace,

                 D            G        D        G            D        G            A        D
A    lantern    to        our    footsteps,    shines on from    age to    age.
It    is the        heav'n-drawn picture        of    Christ, the living    Word.
'mid mists and    rocks    and    quicksands, still    guides, O Christ, to thee.
Till,    clouds and dark-    ness ended,        they    see thee    face to    face.
